

CIVIL WAR COLLECTIONS FINDING AID

The Civil War Collection is a group of resources designed to illustrate St. Lawrence County's participation in the Civil War. Resources include diaries, memoirs of soldiers, letters home, regimental histories, histories written by participants, and secondary works. We have organized the collection by unit. Any non-unit-specific materials are located in later boxes according to their labels.

This finding aid lists each item by box, then alphabetically by the author's last name. It also includes a list of the units represented in this collection as well as the list of soldiers and their respective units. A list of primary and secondary references is listed alphabetically at the end of the finding aid. Should you like to add any new documents to the collection, we ask that you please make a proper entry for it in the space provided at the end of the finding aid.

FINDING AID BY BOX NUMBER

NOTE: Documents are organized by the soldier or author's last name within each box. If a document concerns a particular soldier, but was not written by that soldier, then the document is ordered under the soldier's name. Any documents without an author appear at the front of the box and are ordered alphabetically by title.
